

Retraction Notice

The article by Yehudina and Trypilka, entitled "A clinical case of laptop-generated Erythema ab igne" (Eur J Rheumatol Feb 9, 2021; 10.5152/eurjrheum.2020.20175 [Epub Ahead of Print]) has been retracted from publication in the European Journal of Rheumatology by the decision of the editorial board of the journal since it is a duplicate publication.

A duplication concern has been raised for the manuscript published online ahead of print in European Journal of Rheumatology. The Editorial Board of the journal conducted a thorough investigation following COPE guidelines. The results of the investigation indicated significant similarity in terms of the case and the figures used in the article with a previously published article in Pain Joints Spine in 2020.
